Miss Mariel Hughes and Mrs. Raymond Hughes Entertained

An over-night party for Miss Mariel Hughes and Mrs. Raymond Hughes was given at the Little House by Girl Scout Troop No. 8 on August 6. It was a potluck supper, followed by games, and a dancing party, and was given for the Hughes as a farewell to them. They and the rest of their family will be moving to Little Rock very soon. The party was enjoyed by about 15 scouts with Mrs. Imen Cook serving with Mrs. Hughes as chaperon.

Letters Ride 5,000 Miles in a Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Thor-Able rocket carried two letters 5,000 miles in half an hour last May. But it was 2 1/2 months before they were delivered.

This is the story, as disclosed by the Air Force Missile Test Center Monday.

The Thor-Able hurled its nose cone 16,000 miles an hour to an Atlantic target off Ascension Island on May 1. The cone contained letters addressed to Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the test center, and Col. Henry F. Warden, deputy commander for tests.

A recovery ship plucked the cone from the ocean and brought it to Cape Canaveral. The letters were not found, however, and officials thought they may have burned up in that intense re-entry heat encountered by the cone.

A train carried the cone to Philadelphia for study. Two weeks later technicians there found the letters crumpled among the many elementary instruments in the front of the cone.

The undamaged mail was flown back to the test center and placed on the desk of Lt. Col. Thomas W. Morgan, Thor project officer, who sent them in the first place. Morgan was on temporary duty at another station and it was almost two months before he discovered the letters and delivered them to Yates and Warden.

Faubus Favors Four Years Conditionally

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Adoption of a four-year term for governor would get his approval if the plan contained a provision for recall, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said yesterday.

The recall provision, Faubus said, would keep any governor "on his toes."

Faubus made the statement on a televised (KTHV) seminar of state government.

Former Governors Ben T. Laney and Homer M. Atkins also appeared, along with Dr. Henry Alexander, government professor at the University of Arkansas.

Laney said he favored a four-year term with a provision that a governor could not succeed himself. Atkins also favored such a term but said he didn't think the people wanted it.

Alexander thought a four-year term was good, but a governor should be allowed to succeed himself if such a policy is adopted.

Goldfine Will Be Given a Chance

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators announced plans today to give Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine another chance to answer questions he refused to answer last year.

Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) of the House legislative oversight subcommittee told reporters no date for the hearing had been set.

After refusing to answer the subcommittee's questions last year, Goldfine was indicted for contempt of Congress.

That indictment brought him a suspended sentence last month of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

The questions concerned Goldfine's dealings with the Security and Exchange Commission, one of the federal regulatory agencies the subcommittee has been charged with looking into.

Arkansas Polio Deaths Reach Six

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas polio death toll stood at six today.

The latest death was that of Major Edward Childers, 19, of Little Rock, last night in a hospital here.

Five other persons four of them children, died of polio earlier this summer.

State health officials said 115 polio cases have been reported so far, compared to only eight at this time last year. State medical authorities have said, however, that they feel the peak of the outbreak is past.

DOROTHY DIX

Untrusting Young Wife May Ruin Own Marriage

Dear Dorothy Dix: Last year I married an extremely handsome engineer. His work requires lots of travel and I've had lots of fun going places with him. Now I'm expecting a baby and can't go any place — doctor's orders. Phil is such a gorgeous guy that I can't trust him. I can't face a future of staying home with the kids while he has a good time with other women. I think I should have fun, to. — Milly

Dear Milly: You're acting a bit childish — which is the prerogative of any girl who is pregnant with her first child. Your husband has to earn a living for his family and he must do it in the field for which he was educated. Since he married you, I think you can assume that he is quite satisfied with his wife. Give him credit for being able to resist temptation. If this marriage runs into difficulties, it will be due more to your jealousy than his disloyalty. The normal course of an engineer's dallies doesn't include a round of night clubs or a fling with debutantes.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Two months ago I broke my engagement after going with the boy for three years. I know you'll advise me to go out and meet other men but the stumbling block in my case is my girl friends. They are perfectly content to sit home and watch TV every night. I can't get them to go bowling, swimming or even attend a church picnic. — Arleen

Dear Arlene: You certainly need a new gang of girl friends. Anyone who could watch that much television this summer must be welded to the set. Flip the lame brains out of your life and start all over. Contact your local "Y" and find out what activities are on the agenda for this fall. Join a bridge class, tennis club, hiking party or folk dance group.

"I really don't want anything," said a good client, Bill, as he walked into our office. "But I've always believed in preventive medicine. Just like I visit the doctor once a year for a checkup, I thought I'd call on you and see if you felt my insurance program needs a check up too."

"We'd be glad to get out your file and review it with you," I said. "Sometimes it's better to take a look at the whole picture rather than at one policy at a time as they expire."

"Hope you won't mind, Bill," said apologetically, "but I'm the worrying kind."

"No, it's fine," I assured him. "I just wish more of our customers would drop in for a checkup. Being concerned with the details of our everyday work we don't always find time to seek out every customer for a general checkup."

Bill's idea of an annual insurance checkup makes sense. Your insurance needs, and the type of coverages, change from time to time. You are welcome anytime to stop in and visit with us about your insurance program!

Giants Extend Lead Two Games Over Idle Bums

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pity poor Willie Mays. He's having a bad year. He's hitting under .300. His home run output is way below par. Even his fielding has been somewhat less than spectacular.

San Francisco fans can't understand all those raves that emanated from the East where Willie Mays was the pride of the old Grounds. Last year while Mays was struggling to reach .350 and hit 30 home runs the finished with .347 and 29 homers, it was a rookie, Orlando Cepeda, who became the darling of Seals Stadium.

This year Mays continued to be just a mirage and over-rated player. The real thing, the new darling, has been another Willie—Willie McCovey.

McCovey captured the fancy of the fans by hitting four home runs in his first eight games as a Giant. He won game after game since his elevation from Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League into last month.

McCovey gave the Giants a much-needed shot in the arm with his prodigious hitting. But Willie Mays hasn't been exactly leading either during the past week.

Take Monday night for instance. Shut out by Larry Jackson for eight innings, the Giants rallied for three runs in the ninth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2. All Mays did was drive in the first Giants run with a single and score the winning run on a double by still another Willie—Willie Kirkland.

Injured in Fall on Mt. Petit Jean

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—Jerry Hall, 22, of Blytheville suffered a fractured skull yesterday when he fell from a 20-foot bluff on Petit Jean Mountain.

Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said Hall was walking down a trail with some companions when the accident occurred. Hall was hospitalized at Morrilton.

The victory, fifth in the last six games, extended the Giants' first place lead over the idle Los Angeles Dodgers to two games. Milwaukee, also idle, fell three games back. No other National League team was scheduled.

In the two scheduled American League games, Cleveland defeated Kansas City 6-4 and the New York Yankees downed the Boston Red Sox 7-4 in 10 innings.

It was Mays who either scored or drove in the key run in each of the last five Giants victories. In the only game they've lost since Tuesday, Aug. 4, Mays sat on the bench with an injury.

Colavita Right, Indians Gain on Chisox

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rocky Colavita, the guy who must hit if the Indians are to win the American League pennant, is back on the beam and all Cleveland fans are breathing easier today.

In 25 games before Monday night, Colavita managed only 17 hits in 91 times at bat for a .187 average and the Indians dropped from a first place tie with Chicago to three games in back of the league leading White Sox.

In five times at bat Monday night, Colavita hammered a home run, a double and two singles. He drove in two runs and scored twice to take personal charge of the Indians' 6-4 victory over Kansas City.

The triumph melted the Indians' up to within 2½ games of the White Sox.

In the only other league scheduled game, the New York Yankees defeated the Boston Red Sox 7-4 in 10 innings for their fifth straight triumph.

The San Francisco Giantshipped the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 in the only game played in the National League.

The Yankees staged a real miracle finish to defeat the Red Sox. Held to four hits and no runs through eight innings by Frank Sullivan and trailing 4-0, they put together a walk, hit by man and four singles to elude four runs in the ninth to tie. Elston Howard, Heck Lopez, Clelis Boyer and pinch hitter Norm Siebern got the hits, all singles.

In the tenth, two walks and singles by Yogi Berra, Howard and Lopez off loser Al Schroll and Nelson Chittum, produced three runs for New York.

Whitey Ford, fourth Yankee pitcher, was credited with the victory, his 12th against six defeats.

Herter Leaves for American Conference

By STANFORD BRADSHAW
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, flying here today for the Inter-American Conference of Foreign Ministers, was reported considering making a strong declaration of U. S. opposition to dictatorships.

Herter was due late this afternoon in the Chilean capital after a night's stopover in Puerto Rico. Leaving Washington, he said the conference should take a candid look at troubles plaguing the Caribbean area and adopt measures to deal with them.

Puerto Rico's Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, who talked with Herter in Washington Sunday, said the secretary likely would make clear that the United States does not

Apparently Spaghetti Was a Bit Fattening

ROME (AP)—The Rome Appeals Court has confirmed that the slim figure of soprano Maria Meneghini Callas doesn't owe anything to Prince Marcantonio Pacelli's nonfattening spaghetti.

A court ruling was made public today affirming that Pacelli's pasta, a company damaged Miss Callas' "decurum" by advertising that its "physiological pasta" had taken 44 pounds off the onehitted opera star. The court ordered the two sides to negotiate the amount of damages.

All-Stars Have Usual Rough Monday Drills

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas schoolboy basketball all stars held their last serious drills today before Thursday night's fourth annual game in Barton Coliseum.

But the all-star, football players headed into three days of hard work before Saturday night's clash at War Memorial Stadium.

All four hand coaches agreed that yesterday's workouts were perhaps the worst of the short training campaign.

"They were awfully slow coming off that hill," said West football coach John Pierce of Hope. The consensus was that the Sunday layoff dulled timing. Coaches expected their wards to round in to shape by game time.

Basketball coaches Connie Maloch of Stephens (West) and W. T. Watson of Warren (East) said their squads would undergo rugged scrimmages today, then run through limbering up drills tomorrow.

The West is generally favored in the basketball game because of a surplus of all-star stars and versatility. But the favorite's role probably won't extend beyond a margin of five points.

The East will probably counter with a first five composed of Bobby Anderson of Pine Bluff, Bob Diebold of Hickory Ridge, Gaylon Ward of Leachville, Wayne Davenport of North Little Rock and Jim Wilson of Cherry Valley.

This year's basketball game is expected to draw upwards of 2,500. The football game may draw 35,000.

Homecoming Program
At Mt. Zion

The Homecoming program of the Mt. Zion C. M. E. Church, directed by the Rev. A. Morris,
Presiding Elder of the Washington District is now in progress. An invitation is cordially extended to all well wishers, Christians and others of the community to attend the services.

The purpose of this program is to help stimulate and revitalize
Christian fellowship among Mt.
Zion members and other churches of the city, and also to raise much needed funds.

Tonight's service sponsored by Groups 3 and 4. Guest churches,
Beebe Memorial C. M. E., and

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

News Briefs

GREENFIELD CENTER, N.Y. (AP)—William Jones, 6, collapsed and died Sunday. He had been blowing into a gasoline tank to help his father prime a sawmill engine. Police said he apparently was asphyxiated by fumes he inhaled.

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP)—Dore Schary, stage and film producer, was back on his yacht today after weekend treatment at a hospital for a virus infection.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Rufus Robinson was jailed three years ago for assaulting Abe Marion in an argument over ownership of a suit. Released last week, he looked up Marion and resumed the argument. Back in jail, Robinson declared: "I'm going to get that suit if I live long enough."

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Calvin Orval L. Pellard, 29, found locked in the trunk of his car in a deserted lot claimed two men had robbed him of $272 and left him there. Later he admitted it was a hoax. The truth was, he told police Saturday, that he had lost the money, part of it belonging to friends at Batavia Downs race track and had locked himself in the trunk. It was nine hours before he was found.

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Inmate Donald Parker, 43, swallowed his false teeth while asleep at Wethersfield State Prison Sunday. The teeth were removed at a hospital and he was returned to the prison.

NEW YORK (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren will spend several days in Russia to get a glimpse of how the Russians live. He and his wife left Sunday by plane for Moscow. The trip is part of a month-long European vacation.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Leroy Collins foresees a small amount of integration in Florida schools this fall. "It will be limited," he told a plane of newsmen on a national television program. Face the Nation (CBS), Sunday.

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A freakishly triggered fire in the Lake Elsinore resort area has covered at least 1,500 acres and has destroyed two homes and left more than two dozen men burned or injured. But firefighters said they have it virtually encircled.

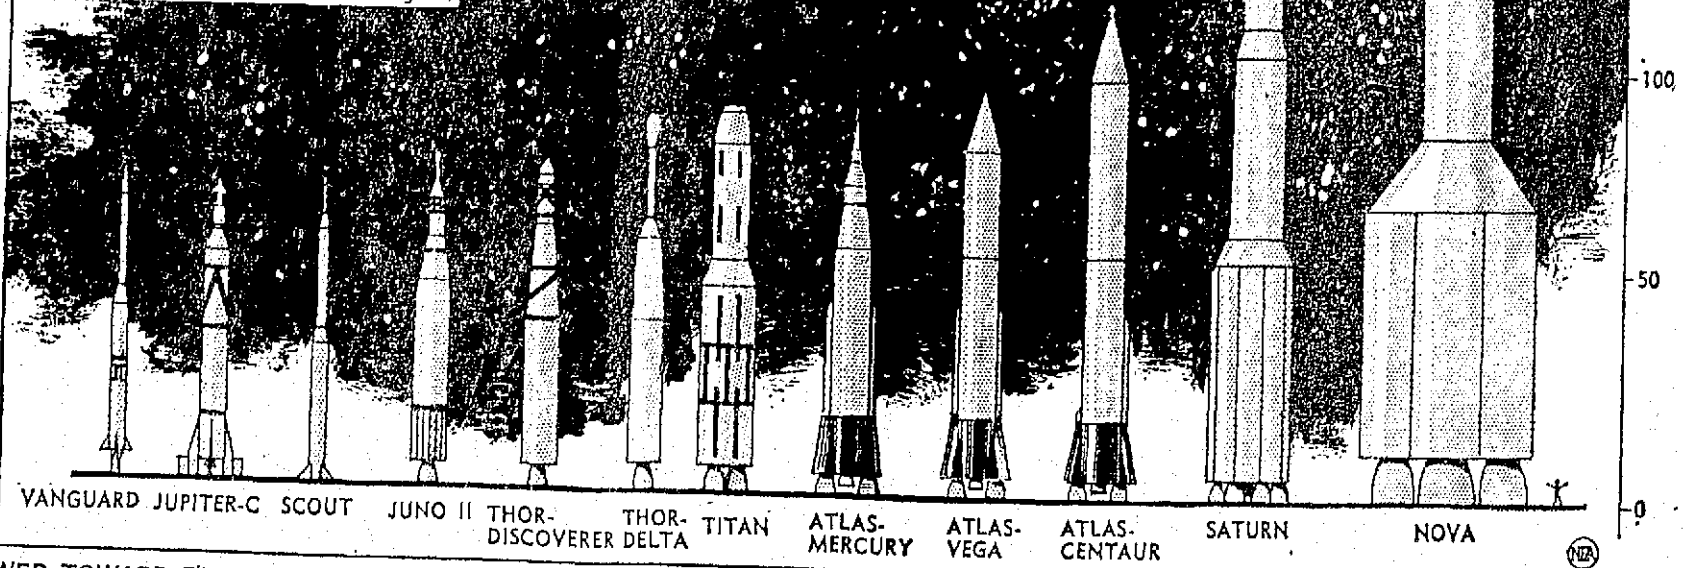

WASHINGTON (AP)—The editor of the magazine Architectural Forum said the new, 25-million dollar Senate Office Building looks fired, meager and rundown. In an article in the current issue, editor Douglas Haskell wrote that the building, which opened this session, illustrates "a state of architectural illness attended by extreme mental confusion threatening to become chronic in Washington."

Philip L. Roof, executive assistant to the Capitol architect, said Haskell was a little late with his criticism, since the designs had been available for years before construction started.

POWER TOWARD THE STARS—Ranged in order of increasing take-off thrust is a line-up of America's space exploration plans for the next five to ten years. Beginning with the comparatively small Vanguard and Jupiter-C, which launched this country's first earth satellites, it continues through rockets and rocket combinations now being tested on up to mighty Saturn and Nova.

The latter, over 25 stories high, will be 200 times more powerful than Vanguard and is designed to be the first U.S. rocket capable of landing men on the moon and returning them—sometime in the late 1960s. The payload figures, in pounds, shown in the table are for the most likely missions, but these can be varied. Cost of the overall program during the next 10 years is estimated at $2 billion.

THIS, TOO, IS TEXAS EASTERN

It Takes A Million Miles Of Driving Every Month To Run Texas Eastern

If you live anywhere near a Texas Eastern pipeline—either our gas transmission system or our "Little Big Inch" petroleum products pipeline—chances are you see a goodly number of motor vehicles bearing the familiar double-circle Texas Eastern insignia.

Statistics say you should. In a month—according to our Transportation Department—some 850 Texas Easterners drive company vehicles more than a million miles on company business.

They do it in 395 passenger cars of varied types, 317 trucks (also assorted)—and on one motorcycle.

This explains—partly—why the Texas Eastern Transportation Department of some 60 persons has about 35 qualified mechanics on the roster.

They perform a continuing ritual, called "preventive maintenance," designed to keep every piece of equipment in top operating condition. And they are as concerned with the appearance of equipment as with its performance. Texas Eastern cars are always shiny and clean—inside and out.

This care for appearance is more than just a "nice idea." Somehow—when you put an average driver behind the wheel of a car he can be proud of—one that runs well and looks handsome—that driver becomes a superior operator, considerate of others and of the machine he's driving.

So, we don't know whether our long-life equipment record is 90% due to good mechanical care and 10% to good driving—or vice versa. But we do know this: we average 70,000 miles of operation per vehicle—generally without a major overhaul. And last year, not a single accident occurred that was chargeable to equipment failure.

All of which puts a big gold star on the report card of the Texas Eastern Transportation Department—in the eyes of safety engineers, auditors, stockholders, and... we truly hope... you neighbors who are sharing highways, byways and city streets with our drivers.

This is one of a series of monthly reports on the diversified activities of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.

THE STORY: Joe Peele, the town derelict of Reservation, seems to be the only friendly person in this town for Deputy Grady Haskell. Grady marvels at the return of self-respect in Joe, who has remained sober and has cleaned his shanty. Grady has called on Joe for information regarding the missing lawman Jack Breton.

XV

Now did Haskell understand the shave, the clean shirt, the freshly scrubbed cabin. Here was a man reaching for a shred of renewed self respect.

"Joe, you got every right to hold your head up. You savvy horses? Jim Kineen is needing a man around his table."

A stir of eagerness grew in Joe.

Sunday since announcement that she is expecting her third child. Elizabeth did not come to Church, less than half a mile from the castle. Instead she asked the Church of Scotland—Presbyterian—pastor to hold services inside the well-guarded castle.

MANILA (AP)—(More than 1,000 Philippine army troops took over police duties in the northern Luzon province of Ilocos today after killing of six persons in the past three weeks. At least four of the deaths were blamed on politics.

Peele's eyes. "Maybe—" "I'll ask him."

Haskell moved to the door, paused and turned.

"Six months ago a man by the name of Breton came into this part of the country. Like me, he was a deputy out of Sheriff Bill Hoe's office in Ordeville. Did you ever see him, Joe—or meet him?"

The cabin had a single small window, which looked out and stepped over and stood staring out of it. His voice ran low.

"I saw him a couple of times, then I never saw him again. I don't know what happened to him."

Haskell considered those thin, turned shoulders for a moment, then said crisply:

"Joe, you're lying."

Silent for a little time, Joe Peele shrugged. He came around meeting and holding Haskell's glance.

"I reckon there ain't many things I wouldn't be happy to do for you, everything considered. But the one thing I just can't do, is give you an honest answer to what you just asked."

"No, Joe—I won't feel hard about it. On the contrary, I ask you know, Joe—I'm beginning to understand that someone in these parts can lay claim to the finest bunch of friends ever heard of."

Now I'll go have a little talk with Jim Kineen."

He found Jim Kineen pitchfork in hand, cleaning stalls and spreading new bedding straw. Leaning on his fork, the stable owner scrubbed a thin beading of sweat from his forehead and listened to Haskell's proposition.

"Now you are a bit hard to figure. I have seen a mazing ruthlessness in you, a savagery when aroused, for there was no mercy in you this morning when you stunned Slack Coulter. Yet you would stand before me now pleading the cause of a worthless derelict who would never draw another sober breath if some one would supply the whiskey."

Haskell shrugged. "That part doesn't matter. What does is that Joe Peele gets another chance. Do me this favor, Jim Kineen. Take a walk out to his cabin. You'll find it still wet from a thorough scrubbing. And you'll find Joe fresh shaven and wearing a clean shirt."

"If that be so, then I admit to a gleam of hope," Kineen conceded reluctantly.

"He scrubbed the cabin with plain water," Haskell went on, "because he didn't have the price of a bar of soap. So I think a $10 advance in wages should help. And I'll make it good if Joe Peele doesn't work out every last cent."

"Now that makes us a pair of sentimental fools," growled Kineen. "And I will bet you another ten that he does not show up for work at all, but lies drunk somewhere about until the first ten is used up on whiskey."

"A bet I'll take," said Haskell quickly.

Slouched in one of the several chairs scattered along the hotel porch, Grady Haskell watched another night muffle the town of Reservation.

Out of the darkness Jim Kineen came drifting, to climb the hotel steps. He stopped and came around as Haskell's softly drawing words reached him.

"Well, do I owe you $10, Jim?" "You do not," growled Kineen. "I have come to pay an honest bet."

Haskell smiled to himself. "You mean you've hired yourself a hand?"

"That I have," Kineen moved up beside Haskell's chair. "Here is your money and it is a bet I am happy to lose."

"Also one I'll not collect on," Haskell said. "If you must give the money to someone, give it to Milo Jellick and tell him to see Joe Peele gets some new jeans and a couple of shirts. Elbow that, or some food for his cabin shelf."

"Now there is a thought," agreed Kineen. "After I'd seen Joe Peele and made our deal, I gave him the $10 advance and went to tell it to Milo Jellick. But I also watched and wondered, with me fingers crossed, with me fingers crossed."

"Soon Joe Peele came through the alley and turned right into the Canyon House, and all me fine feelin's went away and says to myself—Jim Kineen, you have been a great fool while friend Haskell is another, for Joe Peele will not soon come out of the Canyon House, walking straight up and sober."

"Well I went straight into the Canyon House and asked Oren what had happened. He said Joe Peele said he figured he owed about $10 for five lunch he'd eaten, that he was going to pay it off a bit at a time and laid $2 on the bar. Then he told Oren he'd not be drinkin' whiskey or eatin' five lunch any more. Art Oren was a man not believin' his own ears."

Man Held in Attack on 11-Year-Old Girl

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

A Rogers man was held by police today on a charge of assault with intent to rape an 11-year-old girl.

Finis William King, 36, was arrested after the child told her mother of the alleged attack.

Sheriff Hollis Spencer said the girl and two younger sisters were in a car with King Saturday. He had driven them and their mother from Springdale to Rogers.

Spencer said the mother had left the car to go to a cafe. While there he said, the youngest girl came running and said King was bothering the older girl.

Guards Praised For Performances

FT. POLK, La. (AP)—Louisiana

and Arkansas national Guardsmen, praised for their performance so far, today engaged in field maneuvers under simulated combat conditions.

Units of the 39th Infantry Division, consisting of about 11,000 guardsmen, start returning to their home stations next Friday.

After a review Saturday Maj. Gen. Raymond F. Hufft said the troops' spirit was higher than at any time in history.

"You faced a difficult task," he told the troops, "during the last year in completely reorganizing into a pentomic division."

Florida Sought in Steffen De

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—

continued today for the Chandler Steffen case, expected death of Sarasota chief.

Chief Robert N. Wilson lapsed at his home Saturday was dead on arrival at a hospital. Officers said he worked long hours on five tasks and the slaying of Steffen, whose wound and lacerations found Friday with multiple wounds.

Chief of Detectives Wilson is in active charge of the murder probe. He said he is quizzing the victim's friends in hopes of turning clue to the slayer's identity.

Steffen's body was found in his absent father's home. The body was found in a room where two other men, who had been estranged but who had been together on Thursday.

Wilson said that he found no signs of force of a struggle no murder and no clue to a motive. Steffen's throat had been cut and he had other knife wounds.

No Sight of Fallen Craft at Broken B

BROKEN BOW, Okla. (AP)—

The search for a possible wreckage in rugged hills north of here ended late with no sign of the plane.

Broken Bow Police said members of the mounted search party on Saturday night in the wooded country had given up the search.

"They didn't find a trace of the plane," said the police. The ten men party looking for the light plane by Dr. H. H. Larson of Mo., which vanished July flight from Texarkana, Columbia.

The Oklahoma Civil Air patrol spearheaded a search for the missing aircraft last week. The operation was a trace of the plane.
